

the warhol: resources & lessons

Art & Activities / Brillo: But Is It Art? Taste and Bias Activity Handout

Tastes & Biases Web

Fill in the name of the artwork you are viewing. At each arrow point on this chart record any thoughts, feelings and associations that come to mind as you look at the artwork. Draw more arrows if needed.

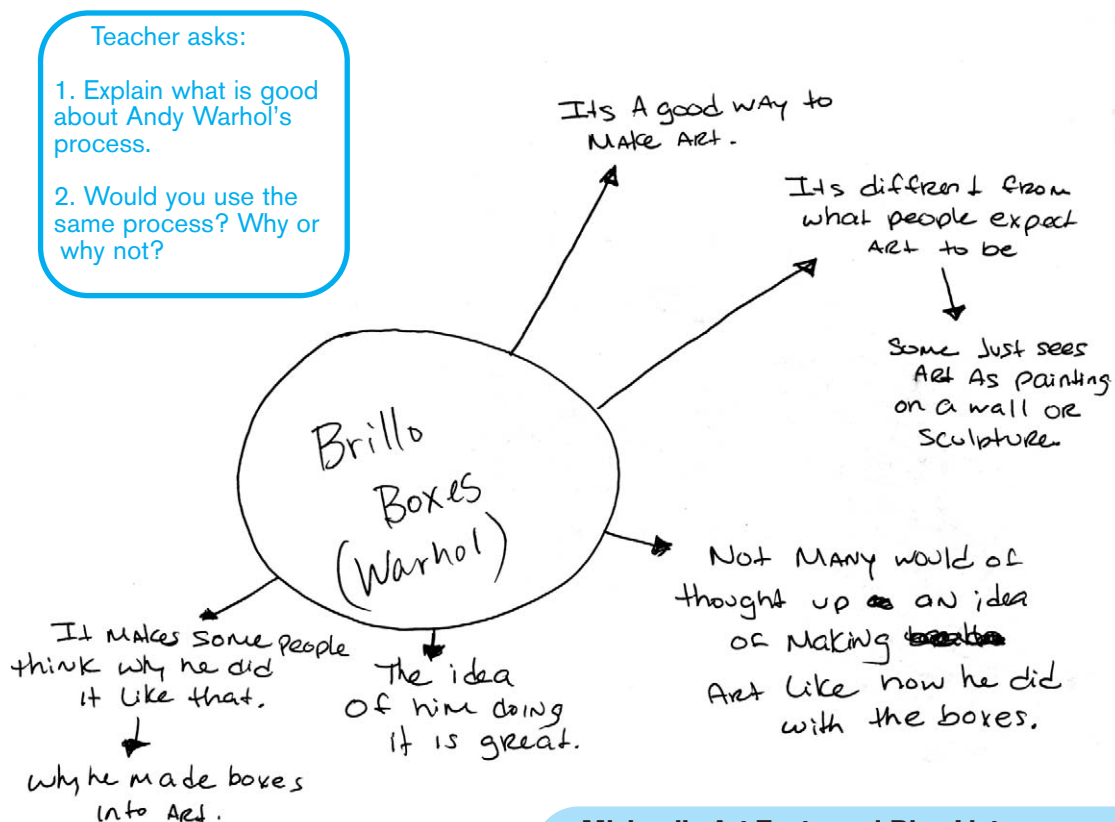

© 2006 The Andy Warhol Museum, a museum of Carnegie Institute. All rights reserved.

You may view and download the materials posted in this site for personal, informational, educational and non-commercial use only. The contents of this site may not be reproduced in any form beyond its original intent without the permission of The Andy Warhol Museum. except where noted, ownership of all material is The Andy Warhol Museum, Pittsburgh; Founding Collection, Contribution The Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts, Inc.

the warhol: resources & lessons

Art & Activities / Brillo: But Is It Art? Taste and Bias Activity Handout

Student Example

In Michael's art list, he pretty clearly states what he likes, but he does not explain fully what his dislikes. Encourage your students to describe their opinions, both positive and negative, about the art in this exercise.

Michael's Art Taste and Bias List:

1. I am okay with abstract art.
2. I like realistic art for myself.
3. I like how artists are using different ways of making art.
4. I like art that is not expected; the idea is new. Not just traditional painting and sculpture.
5. Color affects the way you see art and the way it is drawn.